Intercultural Citizenship Education
through Picturebooks in early English Language Learning

What is Intercultural citizenship education?

Intercultural citizenship education (ICE) in the English as a foreign language (EFL) classroom combines the intercultural communicative competence of language education and civic action in the community from citizenship education.

The aim of the ICEPELL project is to support practitioners to confidently integrate intercultural citizenship education into their EFL lessons and library sessions with children aged 5 to 12 years.

How will the ICEPELL consortium do this?

- Design a 25-hour professional development course for pre- and in-service teachers of English and school librarians
- Develop teaching packs around picturebooks
- Publish a handbook on the theory and practice of using picturebooks to integrate ICE into early EFL teaching
- Organise local and international dissemination events
- Facilitate an Open Educational Resources platform on e-Twinning to foster communities of practice and enable students to interact and take action across borders.
